Position: Occupational Medicine Physician

CompChoice is a full-service occupational medicine provider in Omaha. Full and Part-time positions are immediately available. Occupational Medicine certification is desired, but not necessary. Certification in Family Medicine, Internal Medicine or Emergency services are acceptable. Good patient communication and office orthopedic skills are required. Benefits include weekday hours only, malpractice premiums, all necessary fees or dues, continuing education allowance and health insurance contribution. Salary is commensurate with the ACOEM guidelines.

Omaha has grown from a friendly college town into a large regional center home to several Fortune 500 companies. It offers multiple educational opportunities with two universities, two medical schools and a law school. There is an active artist colony, award winning community and children's theaters; and a new performing arts center. There is a wealth of recreational activities for participants or spectators. Omaha is home to the College World Series, played in a stadium located next to the nationally recognized Henry Dorley Zoo.
